A Picture, a Scripture, and a Song

Gary Russell

God has put James 1: 2-4 in my path twice this month.

First, there was this meme. The top part caught my eye initially because I love bicycling. Then, I scrolled to the bottom part, and realized how fitting it is for my current life situation.

JAMES 1:2-4

*Consider it all joy when you encounter various trials, because the testing of your faith produces endurance...
so that you may be lacking in nothing.*

The second time this week that God showed me this Scripture was this past Wednesday night, as Anne and I visited with Steven at TITUS CAMP @ Heritage Christian University. Ray Reynolds and Travis Harmon shared a wonderful lesson with us, speaking from the heart about personal struggles, how God uses them to make us stronger, and how James 1:2-4 has proven true in their lives.

The hymn "God's Promise" is not in our current songbook, but was first brought to my attention years ago by our beloved Manson and Wyna Behel. We should sing it more!

*"God has not promised skies always blue - flower strewn pathway all our lives through.
God has not promised sun without rain - peace without sorrow - joy without pain.
But, God has promised strength as our day - Rest when we labor - Light on the way.
Grace for our trials - Help from above - Unfading kindness - Undying love.
Though we have mingled sunshine and rain - Clouds decked with rainbows - Joy mixed with pain.
Let us still trust His mercies right on. And sing His praises all the day long."*
